ZLB Plasma Donates Over $4500 in Merchandise to Sunrise Community

Helping People with Developmental Disabilities Have a Brighter Future...TODAY!

May 12, 2008

(Boca Raton, Florida) ZLB Plasma is donating over $4500 in merchandise to one local charitable organization that will help South Florida adults with developmental disabilities. The merchandise goes to a Miami-based organization known as Sunrise Community and will help with client clothing, learning and residential program needs.

Sunrise Community, a not-for-profit organization, assists people with intellectual and physical challenges by providing a variety of programs such as adult day programs, supported living, residential homes, physical and speech therapy, wheelchairs, adaptive equipment, nursing, transportation and other support services.

According to Margaret Feldman, Director of Corporate Communications for Sunrise, "For over 40 years, Sunrise has earned its reputation as the leading not-for-profit organization dedicated to providing the support and assistance necessary so that people with developmental disabilities can take their rightful place in the community. Sunrise has worked with the greatest compassion, skill and resolve to provide not just services, but the best services possible, utilizing every available resource."

The donation made by ZLB Plasma was integrated into their annual Center Managers' Meeting. The meeting was held last week in Boca Raton and ZLB Plasma officials decided to use the time to let employees give back to the community by donating merchandise that would go to supplying needed items for Sunrise clients.

“We decided to help a local charitable organization as part of our annual meeting,” said Randy Furby, ZLB Plasma Senior Vice-President and General Manager. He explained, “Everyone was excited about helping the Sunrise group. The idea of caring for others is part of who we are at ZLB Plasma. Our company provides life-saving plasma that will be produced into therapies that treat bleeding, breathing and immune disorders, burns, shock, trauma and prevent hemolytic disease of the newborn. Therefore, it was only natural that our employees expressed a desire to help others. ZLB Plasma is proud to work with Sunrise Community and the community at large.”

Sunrise’s headquarters is located in Miami, Florida and has numerous locations in five states. For more information about the organization, go to www.sunrisegroup.org.
